UX|UI Designer

About Me

Kaitlyn Nunan is a Graphic Designer and UX Designer, with a passion for illustration. She expresses herself through art, and design.

She's married to her best friend, living in Cheney Washington, and with them they have a feline son named Lano. She spent two years studying computer science, then realized she was missing the visual creativity in her life, so she went and switched her major to Visual Communications Design, and learned that it was her true passion. When she isn't designing she is enjoying time spent with her husband cooking, baking, and lazing around together while they enjoy the simplicities of life, while occasionally being attacked by their cat.

Battle of the Artist

Concept:

Creating a game that intrigues individuals to be creative

Thought Process:

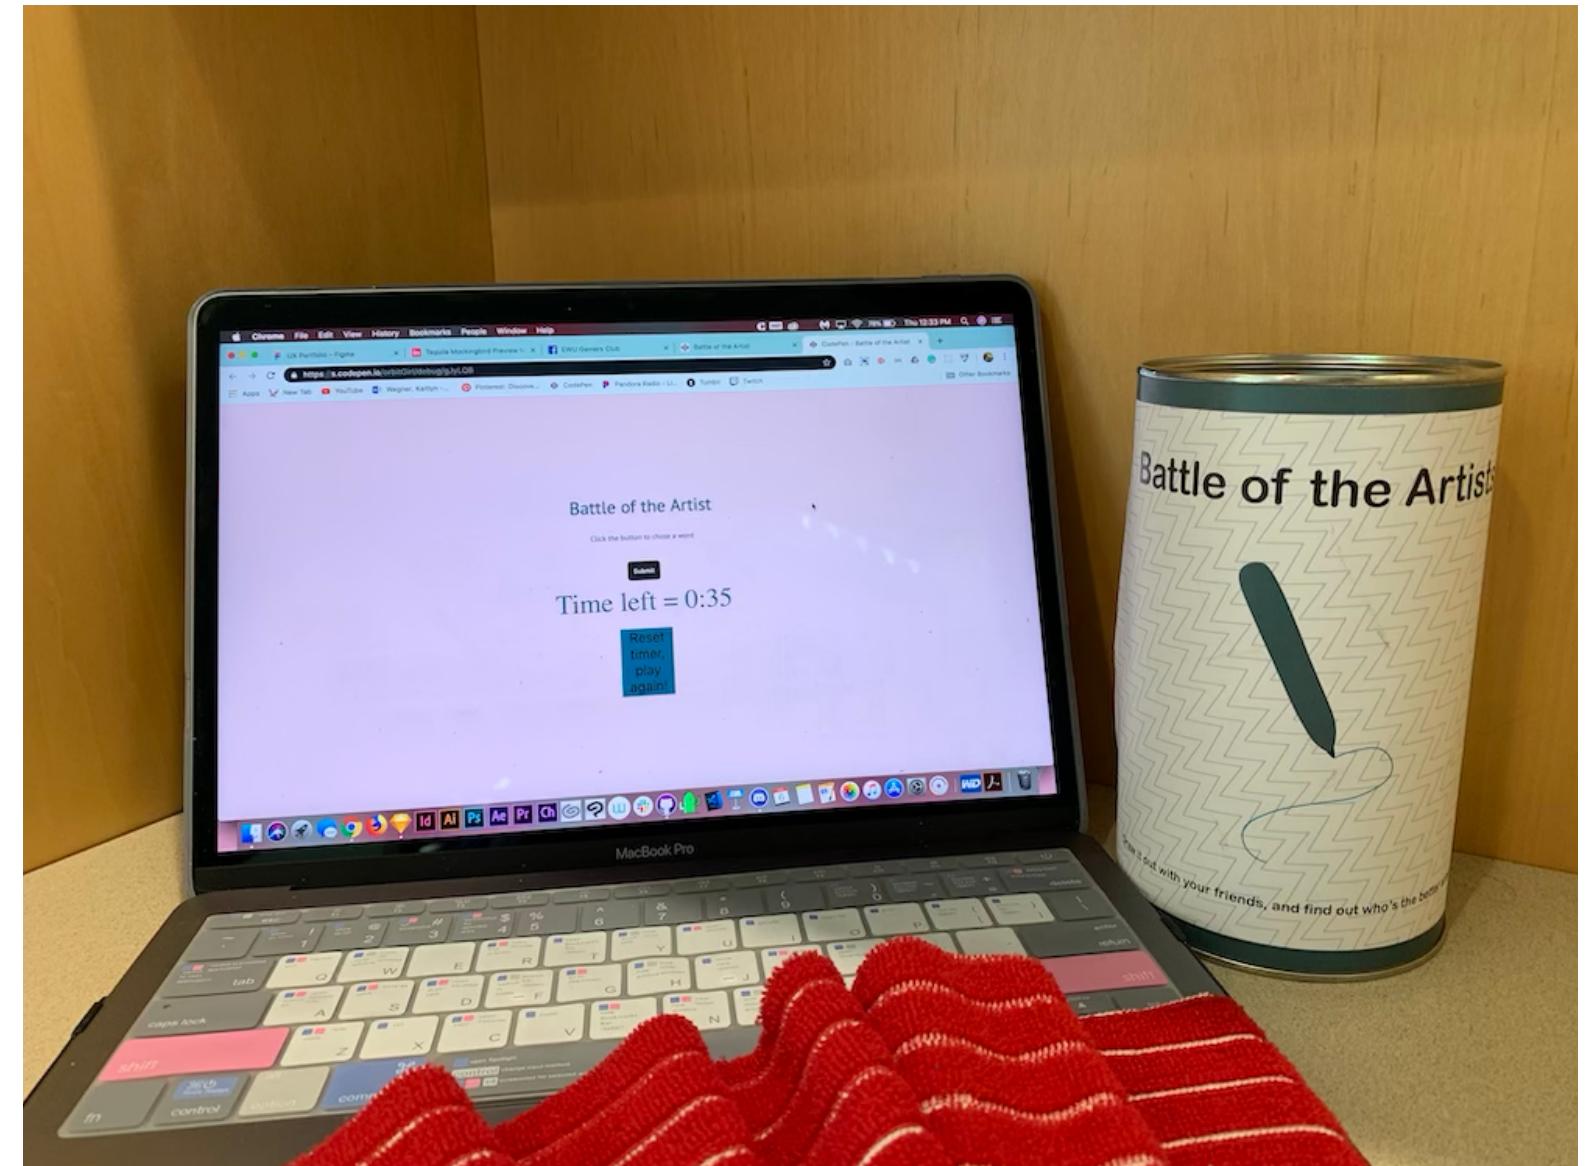

Wanted to create something different, and fun, also wanted to show people my passion of art. It needed to be something entertaining enough to keep individuals attention.

Audience:

Children between the age of 8 and 13

Deliverables:

A game that fits in a coffee tin, with components that give the players a chance to play, and draw against each other.

Tequila Mockingbird

Concept:

Creating a site that users could use to order different varieties of tequila to have delivered to their door.

Thought Process:

Wanted to make something different, and unique from the various alcohol websites, create something fresh

Audience:

Adults between the age of 21 and 35, who don't have the time to go out and buy alcohol

Deliverables:

A UX mockup of Tequila Mockingbird website

Invision Prototype:
